To Whom It May Concern:

It is with great pleasure that I strongly recommend Stanley O. Obongo for a Fuel Pump Attendant. I directly supervised him at Lake oil Group and was continually impressed with how he not only get the job done, but came up with innovative ways to increase sales while building long-term relationships and good will with clients.

Stanley is one of the most driven, dedicated sales representatives I have ever met. He has a competitive spirit, but never stoops to "low blows" to get a client. Always with an eye on the long-term, his goal is to seek out and engage businesses whose services are a good fit with our readers. During the time he worked under me, he set the department sales record during five quarters.

He is polished and engaging without appearing slick or rehearsed-both qualities that are hard to come by in sales representatives. He is fun to be around, and never seems to run out of energy. He has a great sense of humor, too, having (just as one example) written several tongue-in-cheek motivational sales songs he sang, accompanied by guitar, at company parties.

I miss having Him on my sales team and would hire him again in a heartbeat. Please feel free to call or email me if you would like more information.

Sincerely
