Cory Marquis Wright

Delivery Driver

I am a hard worker, punctual, able to work as part of a team and quick learner I can carry out task's set and to understand the importance of deadlines while working under pressure. I am confident in my manner and always see a project through to the end I am vigilant and have a keen eye for trouble and I would use that same manor within any place of work where my services are required. I would also use the skills and knowledge as well as my own initiative and understanding of customer care and the need to keep deadlines set by management or supervisors as well as working in a busy environment that may at times be incredibly stressful to ensure that my duties are carried out to the highest standards.
