ABOUT

I am a motivated and responsible Social Sciences graduate with a Bachelor's degree in Anthropology and practical experience across hospitality, customer service, delivery operations, sales promotion, and event coordination. My academic background has provided me with strong analytical thinking, research skills, and an understanding of human behavior and cultural diversity, while my professional experience has strengthened my ability to work efficiently in service-oriented and customer-facing roles.

I completed my Bachelor's degree from PMAS Arid Agriculture University, Rawalpindi, where I conducted academic research on a historical site in Khyber Pakhtunkhwa. This experience enhanced my observation, documentation, reporting, and organizational skills. In addition, I hold a Diploma in Commerce (DCOM) and a Diploma in Information Technology (DIT), which provided me with foundational knowledge of business operations, financial principles, and computer applications relevant to office.
